1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiffs have brought claims against Officer Albert Rincon (“Rincon”) and 4 his employer, the City of Fullerton (“the City”), for claims arising from his sexual 5 assault against Plaintiffs. Rincon’s sexual assault of Plaintiff Nastasi (“Nastasi”)
6 occurred on August 1, 2008. Rincon’s sexual assault of Plaintiff Bode (“Bode”) 7 occurred approximately three months later on November 14, 2008. Discovery has 8 revealed that, in addition to Plaintiff’s claims, at least four other female arrestees 9 reported similar misconduct by Rincon in 2008. Discovery has further revealed that 10 Rincon had a pattern of repeatedly violating City policy by: (1) turning off his 11 required “digital audio recorder” (“DAR”) during arrests of females, so that no 12 record of the event was kept; and (2) not requesting the presence of a female officer, 13 or any officer, during pat-down searches of female arrestees. With full knowledge 14 of at least six reported similar acts of improper sexual conduct, as well as Rincon’s 15 repeated violation of the specific policies designed to protect the public from this 16 type of abuse, the City refused to investigate further to seek out additional victims 17 during the tenure of Rincon’s employment and refused to remove Rincon.

18 In its Motion for Summary Judgment, the City does not offer any evidence 19 disputing the facts surrounding the sexual assaults.<sup>1</sup> The City, for purpose of the 20 Motion, concedes that the two incidents occurred. Instead, the City argues that it is 21 not liable for Rincon’s actions. The City is wrong.

22 The City contends that it cannot be held directly liable under the state law 23 claims for Rincon’s conduct. The City, however, admits that it may be held liable

24 _____
25 <sup>1</sup> It is unclear precisely who is bringing the Motion for Summary Judgment.
26 Although the caption for the Motion states: “Defendants’ Notice of Motion and 27 Motion for Summary Judgment” (emphasis added), the Separate Statement and 28 Proposed Order suggest that the Motion is only being filed by the City. Separate Statement, Docket No. 20-1, p. 1 line 26; Propose Order, Docket No. 20-6, p. 1, line 22. As the content of the Motion only addresses the City’s liability, Plaintiffs will assume the Motion for Summary Judgment is only brought on behalf of the City.

1 for Rincon's actions under the doctrine of respondeat superior. See Motion for 2 Summary Judgment, p. 13, line 6-7 ("a public entity can be held vicariously liable
3 for the actions of its employees.") This admission alone defeats the City's motion 4 for summary judgment on the assault, battery, false imprisonment, negligence, and 5 intentional infliction of emotional distress claims. Because these claims arise out of 6 Rincon's actions during the course and scope of his employment, Plaintiffs are 7 entitled to pursue the claims against the City to the same extent they are entitled to 8 pursue the claims against Rincon. Mary M. v. City of Los Angeles, 54 Cal.3d 202
9 (1991) (City could be held liable for the actions of on-duty police officer in raping 10 the plaintiff in the course of a traffic stop under doctrine of vicarious liability); 11 Munoz v. City of Union City, 120 Cal.App.4th 1077 (1st Dist. 2004) (city was liable 12 for officer's use of force under doctrine of vicarious liability).

13 The City further contends that Plaintiffs' 1983 claim lacks merit because there 14 is no liability under Monell. The City is wrong for two reasons. First, Plaintiffs 15 have presented sufficient evidence under Monell that the City had a custom or 16 practice of condoning the sexual abuse of arrestees. Second, the City has refused to 17 produce documents or evidence relating to the other complaints and Plaintiffs will 18 be filing a Motion to Compel production of the relevant records. The facts and 19 circumstances regarding the other complaints will shed additional light on the City's 20 deliberate indifference towards the aforementioned conduct. Accordingly, the Court 21 should deny the Motion for Summary Judgment as to the 42 U.S.C. § 1983 claim. If 22 the Court is inclined to consider the issue, it should defer its ruling under FRCP 23 Rule 56 until after Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel is decided.

24 25 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

26 The City hired Rincon in the capacity of a police officer in 2006. Exhibit D<sup>2</sup>, 27 Rincon Deposition, 30:1-8. The City's police officers are required to wear Digital

28

1 Audio Recorders (“DAR”) at all times and to have them turned on whenever they are 2 in contact with a suspect. Id. at 35:15–36:7. This policy is mandatory. Exhibit E, 3 City Deposition, 57:4-8; 60:19-22 (emphasis added). The City’s policy and 4 procedures, Section 1202.3, requires “[w]henver practical, a pat-down of an 5 individual should be conducted by an officer of the same sex as the person being 6 searched. Absent the availability of a same sex officer, it is recommended that a 7 witness officer be present during any pat-down search of an individual of opposite 8 sex as the searching officer.” Exhibit F (emphasis added).

9 10 a. Gina Nastasi

11 On August 1, 2008, Nastasi was a bartender at Bananas Bar and Grill in 12 Fullerton. Exhibit A, Nastasi Deposition, 36:8-10. Nastasi was at the end of her 13 shift and was standing outside the bar. Id. at 57:17-18. She was dressed for work 14 in a bikini top and short mini-skirt. Id. at 108:2-8; 110:19-22; 111:8-12. At that 15 time, Rincon spotted Nastasi and approached her. Id. at 57:17-18. After a short 16 conversation, Rincon took her into the bar and searched her purse. Id. at 87:7-11.
17 He found nothing unlawful. Id. Rincon then searched a bucket which was on a 18 table in the bar and claimed to find an illegal substance in a pack of cigarettes 19 therein. Id. at 92:18-23; 94:20–95:15. Neither the cigarette pack nor the bucket 20 were Nastasi’s property and Rincon had no basis to believe they were. Id.

21 Despite a lack of any probable cause, Rincon arrested Nastasi, handcuffed 22 her, led her to his car, and performed a pat down search. Exhibit A, 97:1-10; 99:22– 23 100:10; 106:25–108:1. He did not request the presence of a female officer during 24 the search. Exhibit D, Rincon Deposition, 255:23–256:2. Rincon “could clearly see 25 that she had no visible weapons or anything dangerous on her and she was not an 26 officer safety threat at that time based on that contact.” Id. at 181:2-8.

27
28 the Declaration of Jason McDaniel in Support of Plaintiff’s Opposition to Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment.

1 Nevertheless, Rincon slid his hands up Nastasi's bare legs from her ankles, to the 2 inside of her thighs, to her crotch. Exhibit A, 108:2-8; 110:19-22; 111:8-12.
3 Thereafter, Rincon then ran his hands underneath Nastasi's breasts and "felt her up." 4 Id. He then seat-belted her into his patrol car and moved her bikini top, which 5 exposed her right breast. Id. at 113:8-12; 113:20-25. Despite requests by witnesses
6 and Nastasi, Rincon refused to cover her exposed breast. Rincon left Nastasi's 7 breast exposed the entire trip to the Fullerton jail. Id. at 116:1-118:16. While 8 driving her to the Fullerton jail, Rincon made numerous sexually harassing 9 comments, including the following: asking Nastasi multiple times if her breasts were 10 real or fake; commenting that she had beautiful breasts; and asking her if she would 11 perform oral sex upon him. Id. Upon arriving at the Fullerton jail, Rincon covered 12 Nastasi's breast and removed her from the vehicle by grabbing her crotch with one 13 hand and handcuffs with the other. Id. at 117:9-17. Nastasi was not prosecuted for 14 this arrest. Exhibit D, 186:19-21. (emphasis added).

15 Discovery has revealed that Rincon activated his DAR during the initial 16 contact with Nastasi, but he turned it off while searching and transporting Nastasi to 17 the station. Exhibit D, 158:15-18; 159:2-8. He then reactivated his DAR once 18 inside the station. Id. Rincon has no explanation for this clear violation of policy.
19 Id.

20 Rincon approached Nastasi again at Bananas Bar approximately one to two 21 months after her August 1, 2008 arrest. Exhibit D, 187:13-188:8; Exhibit A, 22 159:20-160:13. Rincon told Nastasi not to make any trouble for herself and that he 23 got the District Attorney to drop some of the charges. Exhibit A, 159:20-160:13.
24 He also told her that she was a beautiful girl and that he did not want there to be any 25 hard feelings. Id.

26
27 b. Kari Bode

28 On November 14, 2008, Bode was in her vehicle exiting the parking lot of

1 Bananas Bar and Grill. Exhibit B, Bode Deposition 26:1-5. Rincon targeted Bode 2 as she left the bar and pulled her over for allegedly not having her lights on while in 3 the parking lot. Id. at 20:15-16. After conducting field sobriety tests, Rincon 4 arrested Bode and belted her into the back seat of his patrol car. Id. at 41:21–42:8.
5 He then entered the back seat of the vehicle, exposed Bode’s breast, fondled her 6 breasts, and placed his finger in her vagina under the pretext of searching her groin 7 area. Id. at 59:19-21; 61:25. He did not request the presence of a female officer 8 during the search. Exhibit D, Rincon Deposition, 255:23–256:2. Rincon’s sexual 9 assault caused bruising on Bode’s thigh and part of her breast. Exhibit B, 121:4-16.
10 After at least five minutes of sexually assaulting Bode, Bode’s daughter arrived on 11 the scene, thereby interrupting Rincon. Id. at 56:7-8; 50:10-13; 63:10-13. Rincon 12 then transported Bode to the Fullerton jail. Id. at 73:7-10. In transit, Rincon made 13 comments about Bode’s daughter stating that she was hot and asked if he could get a 14 date with her. Id. Bode was similarly not prosecuted for this arrest. Exhibit D, 15 234:3-9 (emphasis added).

16 Discovery has revealed that Rincon activated his DAR during the initial 17 contact with Bode, but he turned it off while searching and transporting her to the 18 station. Exhibit D, 204:8-18. He has no explanation for this clear violation of 19 policy. Id.

20 On October 21, 2010, Rincon stopped Bode and her husband, Louis Hayes, 21 while they were in the parking lot of Bananas Bar. Exhibit B, 146:12–147:11.
22 Despite not operating a vehicle, Bode’s husband was given sobriety tests, which he 23 passed. Id. 156:18. Nevertheless, Rincon testified that he did give a citation to 24 Bode’s husband. Exhibit D, 226:21–227:4; 232:11-17.

25
26 c. Discovery
27
28

1 Discovery in the form of Requests for Production, Interrogatories, and 2 Depositions, as well as investigation has revealed an alarming pattern of misconduct 3 and indifference on the part of Rincon and the City.

4 i. Deposition of OCDA Investigator Curtis McLean

5 On August 4, 2011, Investigator Curtis McLean (“McLean”) of the Orange 6 County District Attorney’s Office (“OCDA”) was deposed by Plaintiffs. Exhibit C, 7 McLean Deposition. Investigator McLean testified that on or about November 17, 8 2008, the OCDA received the request from the City to investigate sexual 9 misconduct allegations against Rincon. Id. at 15:14-16; 37:8-14. At that time, the 10 allegations included those set forth above by Nastasi and Bode, along with 11 additional allegations by Ms. Jean Tavianini. Id. at 37:17-24. The OCDA assigned 12 McLean to conduct the investigation. Id. at 30:9-11. At issue for the OCDA was 13 whether to prosecute Rincon for his alleged sexual misconduct. Id. at 69:21–70:13.

14 In addition to investigating the specific allegations of Bode, Nastasi, and 15 Tavianini, Investigator McLean decided to look further to determine if any similar 16 conduct occurred with other women detained by Rincon. Exhibit C, 23:21–24:1. In 17 this regard, McLean attempted to interview women arrested by Rincon during 2008.
18 Id.

19 As a result of this limited investigation, McLean identified at least three 20 additional victims; for a total of six. McLean testified that he alone interviewed 21 over 30 people during his investigation of Rincon. Exhibit C, 32:11-25. His 22 practice was to digitally record the interviews and prepare a written report. Id. at 23 35:5-14; 64:17–65:13.

24 ii. Cynthia Escartin

25 According to Investigator McLean, Cynthia Escartin reported that when she 26 was arrested in April of 2008, Rincon stopped his patrol car, removed her from the 27 backseat, and searched her by taking his hands on the flesh of her legs up into her 28 groin area and also over her breasts. Exhibit C, 22:4-18. At some point after her

1 arrest of Ms. Escartin, Rincon's DAR was turned off. Id. at 47:18-25. Rincon did 2 not request the presence of a female officer during the search. Exhibit D, Rincon 3 Deposition, 255:23–256:2. A recording, as well as a report, were made by the OCDA
4 of the interview with Ms. Escartin, but Defendants have refused to produce same.
5 Exhibit C, 26:13-16; Declaration of Jason A. McDaniel ("McDaniel Dec.") ¶¶ 1-6.
6 Ms. Escartin was not prosecuted for her arrest. McDaniel Dec. ¶ 8 (emphasis added).

7 iii. Delia Flores

8 Also according to Investigator McLean, Ms. Delia Flores reported that when 9 she was arrested by Rincon, he made sexual propositions to her. Exhibit C, 23:1-9.
10 McLean noted in his deposition that he did not want to confuse the victims "because 11 there was so many of them." Id. at 23:12-17. Investigator McLean did not have a 12 DAR for the arrest of Flores. Id. at 51:14. Rincon did not request the presence of a 13 female officer during the search. Exhibit D, Rincon Deposition, 255:23–256:2. The 14 OCDA interviewed Ms. Flores and digitally recorded it, but Defendants have refused 15 to produce same. Exhibit C, 25:24–26:7; McDaniel Dec. ¶¶ 1-6. Ms. Flores was not 16 prosecuted for her June 14, 2008 arrest. McDaniel Dec. ¶ 9 (emphasis added).

17 iv. Jean Tavianini

18 Investigator McLean learned from the City that Ms. Jean Tavianini reported 19 that when she was arrested by Rincon, he touched her breasts. Exhibit C, 18:15-20; 20 37:15-24. Tavianini's arrest was on October 9, 2008. Defendants' Motion for 21 Summary Judgment pg. 9. Investigator McLean noted that there was only a partial 22 digital recording of the arrest from Rincon, but the DAR "goes off" as Ms. Tavianini 23 was walked to Rincon's car. Exhibit C, 53:16-19. Rincon did not request the 24 presence of a female officer during the search. Exhibit D, Rincon Deposition, 25 255:23–256:2.

26 v. Angela Dibuono

27 According to Investigator McLean, Ms. Dibuono reported that when she was 28 arrested in November 2008, Rincon put his hands around her breasts, put her in his

1 car and looked down her top. Exhibit C, 20:5–22:3. Rincon did not request the 2 presence of a female officer during the search. Exhibit D, Rincon Deposition, 3 255:23–256:2. The OCDA made a recording and a report of the interview with Ms.
4 Dibuono, but Defendants have refused to produce same. Exhibit C, 25:1-8; 5 McDaniel Dec. ¶¶ 1-6. Angela Dibuono was not prosecuted for her November 7, 6 2008 arrest. McDaniel Dec. ¶ 10 (emphasis added).

7 Of particular note from Investigator McLean was Rincon’s improper use of 8 his DAR: “I know that dealing with this case, there always seemed to be a point in 9 time where it would go off.” Exhibit C, 49:18-19. “[I]t was Rincon’s practice to 10 arrest somebody, and once the handcuffs are on and they’re placed in the car, he 11 would turn off his DAR...the consensus was, this was a pattern.” Id. at 56:16–57:4.
12 Despite this obvious improper behavior by Rincon, the OCDA investigation only 13 included Rincon’s arrests of females in 2008, or approximately 12 females. Id. at 14 23:21–24:1; 28:13-19. Without explanation, the OCDA did not investigate any 15 other females arrested by Rincon prior to 2008 despite Rincon starting with the City 16 in 2006. Id. at 30:1-8.

17 vi. OCDA Refused to Prosecute Rincon

18 Upon completion of its limited investigation, Investigator McLean relayed his 19 findings to District Attorney Andre Manssourian. Exhibit C, 70:6-10. Despite full 20 knowledge that at least six different women had reported six different events of 21 Rincon’s unlawful sexual conduct, the OCDA refused to prosecute Rincon and did 22 not investigate further to identify any of Rincon’s potential victims in 2006 and 2007.
23 Id. at 69:21–70:13; 30:1-8; Exhibit E, City Deposition 172:20-21.

24 vii. OCDA Reported to the City

25 Investigator McLean prepared a file that contained all of his investigative 26 materials, interview reports, audio files, items provided to him during the 27 investigation by the City, and he provided that file to the City. Exhibit C, 67:12-20.
28 Investigator McLean made no determinations as to veracity in his summary of 1 findings; he provided no conclusions; and he gave no opinions as to credibility. Id. at 2 65:1-20. The file was sent to the City in February 2009. Id. at 67:21–68:2. Despite 3 these materials, and full knowledge of the above facts, the City refused to terminate 4 Rincon. Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment, p. 3. Moreover, the City failed 5 to investigate to determine if any other women had been victimized by Rincon in 6 2006 and 2007. Id. at 180:23–181:6. Indeed, the City stuck its head in the proverbial 7 sand. In addition, Defendants have refused to produce that entire OCDA file.

8 McDaniel Dec. ¶¶ 1-6.

9 viii. Deposition of Albert Rincon

10 Plaintiffs’ deposed Rincon on July 25, 2011. Exhibit D, Rincon Deposition.
11 The City hired Rincon as a police officer in 2006. Id. at 13:10-11. On duty, he 12 carries a DAR to record his contacts with the public, which he can turn on and off.
13 Id. at 33:9–34:2. Rincon admitted he is required to keep the DAR on from the 14 beginning of a contact with a suspect until the end of the contact, which is when he is 15 no longer in physical custody of the person. Id. at 35:15–36:7. At the end of his 16 shift, Rincon is required to transfer the audio files from his DAR to the City’s 17 computers. Id. at 38:19-22. Rincon had no explanation for his clear violation of the 18 DAR. Id. at 158:12-22; 204:8-18.

19 Rincon admitted to violating the City’s policy with regard to the arrests of both 20 Plaintiffs. Against policy, Rincon testified his DAR was not activated through the 21 entire contact with Nastasi on August 1, 2008. Exhibit D, 158:15-18; 159:2-8.
22 Rincon was on duty at the time of Plaintiffs’ arrests. Id. at 84:16-20; 187:19-20. He 23 also testified that he turned his DAR off during contact with Bode on November 14, 24 2008. Id. at 204:8-18.

25 Rincon was also in violation of the City’s policy Section 1202.3c with regard 26 to pat-down searches of female suspects. Exhibit F. He testified that he was familiar 27 with Section 1202.3c of the City policy and procedure manual and that he has 28 conducted pat-down searches of female suspects when a female officer was not

1 present. Exhibit D, 115:24–116:4. In fact, there have been instances Rincon 2 searched female suspects when he was the only officer present. Id. at 118:2-5. In his 3 career, Rincon never called a female officer to perform a pat-down search of a female 4 suspect, which was against policy. Id. at 255:23–256:2 (emphasis added).

6 ix. Deposition of the City

7 On July 26, 2011, Plaintiffs deposed the City through its FRCP 30(b)(6) 8 witness. Exhibit E, Deposition of City. At some point, the City requested that the 9 OCDA investigate Rincon’s sexual misconduct, but the City does not know when the 10 investigation started or ended. Id. at 226:12-16. The OCDA criminally investigated 11 Rincon, but made no determinations whether Rincon should be disciplined. Exhibit 12 C, 69:21–70:13. The City did not know if it had the OCDA investigation findings.
13 Exhibit E, 174:13-20. Shockingly, the City did not know why the OCDA declined to 14 prosecute Rincon. Id. at 175:7-10. Yet, the City assumed that since the OCDA did 15 not prosecute Rincon, that the findings of the victims were unfounded. Id. at 175:3-6 16 (emphasis added). In its determination whether Rincon would remain patrolling its 17 streets, the City relied heavily upon the OCDA investigation despite not knowing 18 why the OCDA declined to prosecute Rincon. Id. at 187:19-25; 175:7-10. In 19 actuality, the City knowingly abdicated its responsibility to investigate Rincon.

20 When asked if there had been similar complaints of sexual assault by Rincon 21 prior to August 1, 2008, the City refused to answer. Exhibit E, 201:14-24 (emphasis 22 added). When asked if they were aware of any complaints with regard to Rincon of 23 sexual misconduct against female arrestees, the City refused to answer. Id. at 202:5-24 17 (emphasis added). The City then falsely claimed it was not aware of any other 25 allegations made by anyone other than Bode or Nastasi against Rincon prior to 26 November 14, 2008. Id. at 203:25–204:4. Notably, the City now claims it was aware 27 of the Tavianini and Nastasi incidents on November 3, 2008. Defendants’ Motion for 28 Summary Judgment p. 9-10. The City falsely claimed it was “not aware of any other

1 complaints.” Exhibit E, 205:20-21. Inexplicably, the City did not read the findings 2 regarding Rincon from its own internal affairs. Id. at 173:24-25.

III. STANDARDS ON SUMMARY JUDGMENT

On a motion for summary judgment, “the judge’s function is not ... to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a

1 genuine issue for trial.” Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 249 (1986).
2 A court must view the facts and the reasonable inferences drawn from them “in the 3 light most favorable to the party opposing the motion.” Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co.
4 v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 587 (1986).

5 “[T]he moving party must produce either evidence negating an essential 6 element of the nonmoving party’s claim or defense or show that the nonmoving party 7 does not have enough evidence of an essential element to carry its ultimate burden of 8 persuasion at trial. ... If a moving party fails to carry its initial burden of production, 9 the nonmoving party has no obligation to produce anything, even if the nonmoving 10 party would have the ultimate burden of persuasion at trial. In such a case, the 11 nonmoving party may defeat the motion for summary judgment without producing 12 anything.” Nissan Fire & Marine Ins. Co., Ltd., v. Fritz Cos. Inc., 210 F.3d 1099 (9th 13 Cir. 2000) (citations omitted). “[A] moving party may not require the nonmoving 14 party to produce evidence supporting its claim or defense simply by saying that the 15 nonmoving party has no such evidence.” Id. at 1105.

16 17 IV. THERE ARE TRIABLE ISSUES OF FACT REGARDING THE 18 CITY’S LIABILITY UNDER MONELL

19 Under the Civil Rights Act, a municipality may not be held liable under a 20 respondeat superior theory for the acts of its employees. Monell v. Dep’t of Social 21 Services, 436 U.S. 658, 694 (1978). Rather, a local government may be liable for a 22 constitutional tort committed by its officials through municipal policy, practice, or 23 custom pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Weiner v. San Diego County, 210 F.3d 1025, 24 1028 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Monell v. Department of Social Servs., 436 U.S. 658, 25 690-91 (1978)).

26 Defendant moves for summary judgment on two main grounds: First that 27 Plaintiff allegedly did not plead a direct civil rights violation against the City in its 28 Complaint, and, second, that The City allegedly does not have a policy, practice or 1 custom that led to the instant civil rights violation. Both contentions are misplaced.

2 First, with respect to the pleading issue, Plaintiff's Complaint plainly contains 3 as its Eighth Cause of Action a claim for "Violation of Civil Rights (42 U.S.C.
4 1983)" that is addressed to all Defendants, including the City. It is well settled that a 5 Monell claim need not be pled with particularity. Karim- Panahi v. Los Angeles 6 Police Dep't, 839 F.2d 621, 624 (9th Cir. 1988); Shah v. County of Los Angeles, 797 7 F.2d 743, 747 (9th Cir. 1986). Moreover, to the extent that Defendant sought a more 8 particular pleading, they should have filed a motion under Rule 12(b), rather than 9 Answering the Complaint as they did. In any event, Plaintiff's Complaint was 10 sufficient to put Defendant on notice that they should file a Motion for Summary 11 Judgment as to its Monell liability, which it did.

12 Second, it is well settled that a municipality's failure to correct the 13 constitutionally offensive actions of its employees can rise to the level of a custom or 14 policy "if the municipality tacitly authorizes these actions or displays deliberate 15 indifference" towards the misconduct. Brooks v. Scheib, 813 F.2d 1191, 1193 (11th 16 Cir. 1987).

17 A municipality can be held liable for the constitutional violations of its 18 employees where there is a practice of sexual assaults and displayed a deliberate 19 indifference toward them. Harris v. City of Pagedale, 821 F.2d 499 (8th Cir 1987); 20 Bohen v. City of East Chicago, Ind., 799 F.2d 1180, 1189 (7th Cir. 1986) (finding the 21 City liable where sexual harassment of female employees was an "on-going and 22 accepted practice at the East Chicago Fire Department," which constituted a custom 23 for purposes of municipal liability under 1983); Oliver v. City of Berkley, 261 24 F.Supp.2d 870 (ED MI 2003).

25 "[A] municipal defendant's failure to fire or reprimand officers evidences a 26 policy of deliberate indifference to their misconduct" for which a municipality may 27 be held liable under Monell. Henry v. County of Shasta, 132 F.3d 512, 520 (9th Cir.
28 1997); see also City of Canton v. Harris, 489 U.S. 378, 396 (1989) (O'Connor, J.,

1 concurring in part and dissenting in part) (“Where a § 1983 plaintiff can establish that 2 the facts available to city policymakers put them on actual or constructive notice that 3 the particular omission is substantially certain to result in the violation of the 4 constitutional rights of their citizens, the dictates of Monell are satisfied.”).

5 Deliberate indifference may be inferred where “the need for more or better 6 supervision to protect against constitutional violations was obvious,” Vann v. City of 7 New York, 72 F.3d 1040, 1049 (2d Cir. 1995) but the policymaker “fail[ed] to make 8 meaningful efforts to address the risk of harm to plaintiffs,” Reynolds v. Giuliani, 506 9 F.3d 183, 192 (2d Cir. 2007).

10 “Sufficiently numerous prior incidents of police misconduct, for example, may 11 tend to prove a custom and accession to that custom by the municipality’s 12 policymakers.” McConney v. City of Houston, 863 F.2d 1180, 1184 (5th Cir. 1989).

13 Furthermore in the Ninth Circuit, “‘post-event evidence’ may be used to prove 14 the existence of a municipal policy in effect at the time” of the incident. Henry, 132 15 F.3d at 518-519 (finding that officers’ post-incident conduct toward other victims is 16 admissible, relevant, and highly probative to establish 1983 liability.)

17 “Constructive knowledge may be inferred from the widespread extent of the 18 practices, general knowledge of their existence, manifest opportunities and official 19 duty of responsible policymakers to be informed, or combinations of these.” Spell v.
20 McDaniel, 824 F.2d 1380, 1391 (4th Cir. 1987).

21 In Grandstaff v. City of Borger, 767 F.2d 161, 171 (1985), the Fifth Circuit 22 stated,

23 An injured plaintiff is not likely to document proof of a policy or 24 disposition, either of the policymaker or throughout the police force, that 25 disregards human life and safety. The disposition must be inferred 26 circumstantially from conduct of the officers and of the policymaker.

27 Prior incidents of abusive police conduct tend to prove a pattern or 28 custom and the accession to that custom by the policymaker.

1 Id. at 171 (emphasis added)

2 For example, in Harris v. City of Pagedale, 821 F.2d 499 (8th Cir. 1987), the 3 court held that the city was liable under Monell where it had received complaints of 4 sexual misconduct by its officers in the past and acted in deliberate indifference the 5 pattern of police misconduct.

6 As another example, the court in Bohen, 799 F.2d at 1189 found municipal 7 liability under Monell where the police department was generally aware of prior 8 sexual misconduct by its officers through complaints by other victims and tolerated 9 the harassment.

10 In the instant action, Rincon's numerous incidents of sexual misconduct 11 committed in 2008 alone are offensive:

- 12 • Cynthia Escartin, arrested by Rincon on April 12, 2008, reported that 13 during the arrest he touched her legs, breasts, and groin. Exhibit C, 14 22:4-18.
- 15 • Delia Flores, arrested by Rincon on June 14, 2008, reported that during 16 the arrest he propositioned her for sex. Exhibit C, 23:1-9.
- 17 • Gina Nastasi, arrested by Rincon on August 1, 2008, was touched on her 18 breasts and groin by him, propositioned sexually by him, and had her 19 breast exposed by him during that arrest. Exhibit A, 108:2-8; 110:19-22; 20 111:8-12; 113:8-12; 113:20-25; 116:1-118:16.

23

- 24 • Jean Tavianini, arrested by Rincon on October 9, 2008, reported that 25 during the arrest he touched her breasts. Exhibit C, 18:15-20; 37:15-24; 26 Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment p. 9.
- 27 • Angela Dibugno, arrested by Rincon on November 7, 2008, reported that 28 during the arrest he put his hands on her breasts and looked down her

1 top. Exhibit C, 20:5–22:3.

2 This escalating pattern of sexual misconduct by Rincon clearly demonstrates an 3 ongoing and accepted practice by the City. The complete lack of supervision or 4 enforcement of the City’s policies to protect against these egregious violations is 5 staggering. Not to be forgotten is the fact that Escartin, Flores, Nastasi, Bode, and 6 Dibuono were not prosecuted for their arrests. McDaniel Dec. ¶¶ 8-10; Exhibit D, 7 186:19-21; Exhibit D, 234:3-9.

8 Still, the City falsely claimed it was not aware of any other allegations made by 9 anybody other than Bode or Nastasi against Rincon prior to November 14, 2008.
10 Exhibit E, 203:25–204:4; Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment p. 9-10 11 (emphasis added). When asked if there have been similar complaints of sexual 12 assault against Rincon prior to August 1, 2008, the City refused to answer. Id. at 13 201:14-24. When asked if they were aware of any complaints with regard to Rincon 14 of sexual misconduct against female arrestees, the City refused to answer. Id. at 15 202:5-17. Caught in its contradiction about prior Rincon victim Tavianini, the City 16 was forced to concede in its Motion that it was on notice of Tavianini’s reported 17 assault 11 days prior to Bode’s assault. Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment 18 p. 9-10.

19 Now, the City would have the Court believe that “[t]he very first complaint, 20 of a somewhat similar misconduct alleged in this complaint against Officer Rincon, 21 was on or about November 3, 2008 by Jean (Jen) Tavianini.” Defendants’ Motion for 22 Summary Judgment p. 9. Not unsurprisingly, Defendants falsely claim in their 23 Motion that Chief Hamilton made a declaration confirming Tavianini’s was the “very 24 first complaint.” His declaration states no such thing. Also not out of character is the 25 unsupported claim that Curtis McLean confirmed Tavianini’s was the “very first 26 complaint.” In fact, Defendants conveniently omit all support that Tavianini’s was 27 the “very first complaint” they received about Rincon’s sexual misconduct.
28 Regarding prior similar complainants, Defendants failed to produce discovery, they

1 falsely claimed there were no such complainants, they refused to answer such 2 questions at depositions, and they omit support from their Motion for Summary 3 Judgment all in spite of the long list of Rincon's victims. McDaniel Dec. ¶¶ 1-6.

4 Moreover, evidence of post-incident constitutional violations are relevant to 5 establishing a policy and practice under Monell. Henry v. County of Shasta, supra, 6 132 F.3d 512 is instructive on this point.

7 In Henry, the plaintiff sued the County for sexual assault (strip searching) and 8 other constitutional violations committed by an officer during an arrest. In response 9 to the County's motion for summary judgment, Plaintiff offered evidence of post-10 incident constitutional violations on others to establish a policy and practice under 11 Monell. The district court nonetheless granted summary judgment. The Ninth 12 Circuit reversed.

13 The Ninth Circuit held that declarations from other victims, Burns and Mays, 14 who were subjected to the same type of treatment after the plaintiff's incident, were 15 relevant to establishing a Monell claim.

16 May's detention occurred only two and one-half months after Henry's.
17 Such close proximity in time of the two events lends further supports 18 [sic] to Henry's claim that his treatment was not an isolated event but 19 was instead inflicted in accordance with county policy.

20 In holding that the May and Burns declarations may be used to establish 21 municipal liability although the events related therein occurred after the 22 series of incidents that serves as the basis for Henry's claims, we reiterate 23 our rule that post-event evidence is not only admissible for purposes of 24 proving the existence of a municipal defendant's policy or custom, but 25 may be highly probative with respect to that inquiry.

26 Henry v. County of Shasta, supra, 132 F.3d at 518.

27 Here, the evidence of Rincon's similar sexual assaults on other victims, 28 whether before or after the incidents at issue in this case, is directly relevant to 1 establish that his actions were conducted pursuant to a policy and practice.

2 Given that Defendant has falsely testified about its knowledge of Rincon's on 3 duty sexual misconduct, the jury is entitled to disbelieve everything they say, and the 4 only way to resolve this credibility dispute is to present this matter to the jury.

5 Moreover, according to Chief Hamilton, "the city under takes a number of 6 measures to monitor and ensure that unlawful arrests or other acts of misconduct do 7 not occur. They include... b) close monitoring, review and supervision of police 8 officers... f) disciplinary proceedings and measures... [and] h) compliance with 9 P.O.S.T. standards." Declaration of Chief Hamilton, ¶ 11. As in Grandstaff and 10 Harris, there are multiple patterns of policy violations by Rincon, which are directly 11 responsible for the injuries inflicted upon Plaintiffs.

12 The City had custody and control of the partial digital audio recordings from 13 Rincon's arrests of the above-mentioned female victims. Exhibit D, 38:19-22; 14 Exhibit E, 71:13-72:2. In the course and scope of his employment with the City, 15 Rincon had a pattern of violating the City's policy regarding the usage of his DAR.
16 Exhibit C, 56:16-57:4. As Chief Hamilton makes clear, failing to monitor, review 17 and supervise Rincon invites acts of misconduct. If the City had bothered to monitor, 18 review and supervise Rincon's arrest of females, they would have discovered that he 19 was habitually editing these recorded contacts. If the City had instituted the 20 "disciplinary proceedings and measures" or ensured Rincon's "compliance with 21 P.O.S.T. standards," as Chief Hamilton states, then Rincon would have been 22 disciplined and properly trained long before his last victim, Kari Bode.

23 The City's Policies, Section 1202.3 requires "[w]henver practical, a pat-down 24 of an individual should be conducted by an officer of the same sex as the person 25 being searched. Absent the availability of a same sex officer, it is recommended that 26 a witness officer be present during any pat-down search of an individual of opposite 27 sex as the searching officer." Exhibit F (emphasis added). Rincon admitted to 28 violating this policy his entire career with the City. Exhibit D, 255:23-256:2. It is

1 clear that the City woefully ignored and was indifferent to Rincon's pattern of sexual 2 misconduct. In closely monitoring, reviewing and supervising Rincon's arrests of 3 female suspects, which Chief Hamilton declares the City does, it would have been 4 clear that Rincon was habitually violating Policy 1202.3. Either the City knew and 5 did not care, or they remained derelict in their duty to ensure misconduct did not 6 occur.

7 As set forth in Grandstaff and Harris, there are multiple patterns of policy 8 violations by Rincon, which are directly responsible for the injuries inflicted upon 9 Plaintiffs. Notwithstanding the egregious breach of City policy regarding the 10 recording of contacts or the pat-down of female suspects, the long line of Rincon's 11 victims merely encompasses 2008. For no particular reason, the investigation merely 12 peered into Rincon's 2008 female arrests, despite the fact that he had worked for the 13 City since 2006. Exhibit C, 30:1-8.

14 15 V. THE CITY HAS NOT SUBMITTED ADMISSIBLE EVIDENCE TO 16 SHIFT THE BURDEN OF PROOF ON THE MONELL CLAIM

17 The City's sole evidence on the Monell claim is the declaration of Chief Kevin 18 Hamilton [Docket No. 20-5]. The Declaration of Chief Hamilton is inadmissible for 19 two primary reasons. First, for reasons detailed in Plaintiffs' Objections, the 20 Declaration of Chief Hamilton is inadmissible because it is unsigned. See Charlebois 21 v. Angels Baseball, LP, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 71452, at *24 (C.D. Cal. June 22 30,2011)(J. David O. Carter) ("the Court declines to consider any evidence submitted 23 by Plaintiff that comes by way of an unsigned declaration ...."); Ellerd v. County of 24 L.A., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 86960, at *3-4 (C.D. Cal. July 28, 2010) ("the five 25 declarations from putative class members proffered by plaintiff are unsigned and 26 therefore inadmissible"); Lawrence v. City of Chin, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 96876, at 27 * 14 n.3 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 24, 2006) ("Although Plaintiffs dispute this fact, they offer 28 only an unsigned declaration as controverting evidence. Plaintiffs have not offered

1 any admissible evidence in support of their arguments”); Davenport v. Bd. of Trs. of 2 the State Ctr. Cmty. College Dist., 654 F. Supp. 2d 1073, 1083 (E.D. Cal. 2009)
3 (rejecting unsigned declaration for the purposes of summary judgment motion). See 4 also 28 U.S.C. § 1746 (requiring signed statement).

5 Second, many portions of the Declaration of Chief Hamilton are not admissible 6 because they constitute vague, self-serving, legal conclusions.

7 For example, Chief Hamilton’s testimony, in Paragraph 9 of his Declaration, 8 that “the City of Fullerton, by and through its police department, did not set in 9 motion, a series of acts by others, or knowingly refuse to terminate a series of acts 10 by others, which it knew or reasonably should have known or was plainly obvious, 11 would cause others to inflict constitutional injury” is nothing but a self-serving, 12 legal conclusion.

13 Such statements are nothing but bare legal conclusions, bereft of any factual 14 support. Accordingly, they are inadmissible. Federal Rules of Evidence, Rule 704; 15 Torres v. County of Oakland, 758 F.2d 147, 151 (6th Cir. 1985) (admission of lay 16 witness' testimony in Title VII case that plaintiff had not been discriminated against 17 because of her national origin was error; such testimony was a legal conclusion); 18 Christiansen v. National Sav. and Trust Co., 683 F.2d 520 (D.C. Cir. 1982) (lay 19 legal conclusions are inadmissible in evidence).

20 21 VI. AT A MINIMUM, THE COURT SHOULD DEFER RULING ON 22 THE MONELL ISSUE UNTIL PLAINTIFFS HAVE BEEN 23 AFFORDED AN OPPORTUNITY TO COMPLETE DISCOVERY

24 The City has refused to provide documents and evidence regarding complaints 25 made by other victims relating to Rincon. Accordingly, the City has deprived 26 Plaintiffs with essential information and evidence on the Monell issue. Plaintiffs will 27 be filing a motion to compel shortly to obtain the information and documents.

28 The City falsely claimed it was not aware of any other allegations made by

1 anybody other than Bode or Nastasi against Rincon prior to November 14, 2008.
 2 Exhibit E, 203:25–204:4. Additionally and without any evidentiary support, 3 Defendants proclaim that Tavianini’s report was the “very first complaint.”
 4 Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment p. 9. To date, Defendants have refused 5 to produce any documents regarding when Escartin, Flores, Dibuono, or any other 6 alleged Rincon victim reported sexual misconduct, Tavianini notwithstanding.
 7 McDaniel Dec. ¶¶ 1-6.

8 In the event the Court is inclined to grant summary judgment on the 42 U.S.C.
 9 § 1983 claim, pursuant to FRCP Rule 56(d), it should defer its ruling on the Monell 10 issue until after Plaintiffs’ motion to compel is heard and after Plaintiffs have been 11 provided the relevant documents and information relating to the other complaints.

12 13 VII. GOVERNMENT CODE SECTIONS 815.2(A) AND 820 PROVIDE 14 STATUTORY AUTHORITY TO HOLD THE CITY LIABLE FOR 15 RINCON’S ACTIONS

16 Government Code section 820 provides in relevant part that except as 17 otherwise statutorily Provided, “a public employee is liable for injury caused by his 18 act or omission to the same extent as a private person.” (Gov. Code § 820(a).)

19 Section 815.2(a) provides in pertinent part that the entity “is liable for injury 20 proximately caused by an act or omission of an employee of the public entity within 21 the scope of his employment if the act or omission would . . . have given rise to a 22 cause of action against that employee . . . .” (Gov. Code § 815.2(a); see also § 815.4 23 [stating the same as 815.2 but as to independent contractors].)

24 Thus, the general rule is that an employee of a public entity is liable for his 25 torts to the same extent as a private person and the public entity is vicariously liable 26 for any injury which its employee causes to the same extent as a private employer.
 27 See Leger v. Stockton Unified School District, 202 Cal.App.3d 1448, 1461 (3d Dist.
 28 1988) citing Societa per Azioni de Navigazione Italia v. City of Los Angeles, 31

1 Cal.3d 446, 463 (1982).

2
3 VIII. THE CITY MAY BE HELD LIABLE FOR RINCON'S STATE LAW
4 TORTS UNDER THE DOCTRINE OF RESPONDEAT SUPERIOR

5 Additionally, the City moves for summary judgment on the grounds that it has 6 no liability, as a matter of law, for state law claims of assault, battery, battery by 7 peace officer, false imprisonment, negligence, and intentional infliction of emotional 8 distress.

9 It is well settled, however, that a public entity, such as the City, can be held 10 vicariously liable when a police officer acting in the course and scope of 11 employment sexually assaults an arrestee. Mary M. v. City of Los Angeles, 54 Cal.
12 3d 202, 215 (“The issue in this case is: When a police officer on duty, by misusing 13 his office authority, rapes a woman whom he has detained, can the public entity that 14 employs him be held vicariously liable for his misconduct? We conclude that the 15 employer can be held liable under the doctrine of respondeat superior.”); See also 16 Munoz v. City of Union City, 120 Cal.App.4th 1077.

17 While the City, troublingly, does not cite any of these cases, it does concede 18 that it may be held vicariously liable for the acts of its on duty officers. City’s 19 Motion for Summary Judgment, p. 13:6-7. Moreover, the City does not dispute, nor 20 can it dispute, that that sexual assaults at issue were committed by Rincon while he 21 was acting within the course and scope of his employment (i.e., while arresting 22 people).

23 It nevertheless moves for summary judgment on these claims on the grounds 24 that it cannot be held liable on the state law claims alleged in the Complaint. This is 25 plainly wrong. Indeed, following Mary M., the Ninth Circuit has rejected 26
27
28

1 Defendant's exact argument on at least two occasions. See e.g., Blankenhorn v City
2 of Orange, 485 F.3d 463, 488 (9th Cir 2007); Robinson v. Solano County, 278 F.3d 3 1007, 1016 (9th Cir. 2002).

4 In sum, the City is liable to Plaintiffs on the state law claims for battery, 5 assault, assault by a peace officer, false imprisonment, negligence, and intentional 6 infliction of emotional distress to the same extent Rincon is liable for the torts. The 7 City has not offered any evidence suggesting that Rincon is not liable for the above-8 referenced torts. Accordingly, the City is not entitled to summary judgment on any of 9 the claims.
