 "Everybody, one day will die, and be forgotten. Act and behave in a way that will make life interesting and fun, fuck a mundane predictable life. working monday to friday with something you derive no pleasure from; just living life out till you grow old and wither away. Find a passion, form relationships, dont be afraid to get out there and fuck what everyone else thinks, trust me its alot more fun that way.

Albey AI We can totally do something in eight weeks but it's not going to be the ultimate. A personal trainer from a fitness facility will tell you he can do it for you in 8 weeks, and make you pay a crap load of money up front. I'm telling you I can do it for you free of charge just not in 8 weeks. We can certainly make progress in eight weeks but it's not going to be that BANGIN body .

February 27 at 10:41pm

Bruce Lee You kno it's never done bro even at 2 am or when no ones left in de gym there's always a part that's not sore N begs to be worked on! My anniversary is march 12 and people always ask me why are you working so hard? Are you competing ? If I have your body I'll quit right there! I just smile n politely tell them that I'm barely half way there like a stage 5 of 10 and ten is when I stop :) that usually shut them up! I hope they know that there's no perfect 10 it's just a number like theres no reps in my sets I'm done when the shredding is done! Thanks again bro my next back workout will be an inspired one! Sorry had air to say...
